19:39:38 From John McArthur to All panelists : Good morning from Hong Kong. This is a great way to start the day before teaching! We are back to face to face teaching the end of September.

19:39:46 From Megan Dehner : Hello John!

19:39:55 From Kate Kasperowicz : Amen Abby

19:40:02 From Pam Roble : YES! I take an hour nap when I come home every day!

19:40:25 From Amy Oliver : Totally agree with you, it does seem to get better and become more of a routine after the first couple of weeks.

19:40:35 From Kevin : true, nothing like teacher tired.

19:40:47 From Kate Kasperowicz : I am a temperature taker and I have to be in by 7:15

19:40:48 From Renee A to All panelists : How are you teaching the students who are remote at the same time as the ones in person?

19:41:12 From Pilar Hunt : Technology has been hard for me.

19:41:15 From Jordan DeWilde : Podcast about designing your physical and digital space: <https://theartofeducation.edu/podcasts/designing-a-classroom-both-physically-and-digitally-ep-140/>

19:41:34 From Karin Pacetti : That was the saddest ever...developed awesome habits over 3 years with the kiddos and now it's all backwards.

19:41:53 From Colette Hardy : Jordan : are there any specific AOE articles or posts regarding setting up multiple devices for virtual learning and doing a demo while still being present with kids in a virtual meet? overhead device for demo plus laptop, etc.?? thx!

19:41:56 From Mrs Buechler : I feel like a waitress

19:42:06 From Maryjo Montgomery : We teach hybrid HS block schedule, 40 min in class, 40 min synchronous with Google meet. I teach Ceramics from a box in the front of the room, I'm breaking the rules moving around the students.

19:42:07 From lundgrke : My school is also hybrid. Group A are 2 days in person and 3 days at home and group b is the opposite. Wednesday is a deep clean day with no one at school. Hardest things are not sharing, getting remote work ready, keeping up with 2 different groups deadlines, and taking attendance for in person and remote learning..

19:42:34 From Theresa Strocen-Bates : an empty desk... is the sign of an empty mind.

19:42:35 From Amy Meyer : Hybrid logistics is crazy!

19:42:44 From Jordan DeWilde : PRO Pack about planning instructional videos: <https://theartofeducation.edu/packs/planning-instructional-videos/>

19:42:53 From Pilar Hunt : For parents!!!!!!

19:42:56 From Megan Dehner : Colette - That is so many things! Now that many of us have "lived" it we are 19:43:05 coming out with content in the next couple of weeks! Keep following the Magazine!

From kristen beaulieu to All panelists : our hybrid model is half lass in and half class at home rotation / expected to teach both at same time .

19:43:10 From Maryjo Montgomery : I can't wrap my head around hybrid, and also synchronous remote for another block of students

19:43:12 From Susan Mitrano : Colette Hardy - you can also message me on Insta - I did that this summer in an Art Camp @susan.mitrano

19:43:19 From Pam Roble : YAS! I'm teaching in person, remote 2 days, and some with 100% remote. AAAAAHHHHHHH

19:43:25 From Colette Hardy : Thank you Megan!!

19:43:29 From Jordan DeWilde : Abby's PRO Pack about the logistics of teaching online: <https://theartofeducation.edu/packs/understanding-the-logistics-of-teaching-online/>

19:43:34 From Angela Gonzalez to All panelists : I have both face to face and online at the same time. Very difficult to show equal attention to online learners and face to face at the same time!

19:43:37 From Maryjo Montgomery : Pam Roble YES

19:43:38 From paige travis conn : Yes...everything in subject line!!

19:43:41 From tina : our kids too!

19:43:45 From Julie Norris : You are speaking my language. The road blocks have a been HUGE BOULDERS but it does get a little better. I'm feeling like I can do this. But MAN IT 'S BEEN TOUGH! Re-doing everything! We're all first year teachers! :O

19:43:45 From Colette Hardy : thx Susan I will ;)

19:43:52 From Angela (she/her) to All panelists : So many of my students send emails like that too. haha

19:43:52 From KarenBass to All panelists : Pahahaha Abby, truth! #help

19:43:55 From Jordan DeWilde : Abby's article about using Google Classroom in the art room: <https://theartofeducation.edu/2020/03/26/how-to-use-google-classroom-in-the-art-room/>

19:44:02 From Pam Roble : The "no Authorization" from Google Classroom is RIDICULOUS!!

19:44:03 From Jenn Russell : YES! This is such a BIG thing with our kids, a Subject Line? What is that?

19:44:22 From Luba Zygarewicz to All panelists : great idea about the assignment!

19:44:24 From Susan Mitrano : Our school is doing all that training in an advisory/homeroom class.

19:44:34 From Amy Meyer : Supplies for both when you are live hybrid and have students at home who dont have the supplies.

19:44:38 From Angela (she/her) to All panelists : I love when I get an email that says "hey - what was the assignment again?"

19:44:48 From Veronica Campos-Hallstrom : My institution uses Moodle for the learning platform and that is a learning curve. As an instructor, I took a course for it. As students, they are required to take a mini course so we are all on the same page.

19:44:50 From Janis Nunnally : I do in person learning and have remote learners at the same time. It is a struggle to have that connection with my online students.

19:44:53 From Theresa Strocen-Bates : walking through the "how to steps" is priority one...if you actually want to see any of your students work!

19:44:56 From Jordan DeWilde : Abby's article about using Google Classroom in the art room: <https://theartofeducation.edu/2020/03/26/how-to-use-google-classroom-in-the-art-room/>

19:44:59 From Pam Roble : Setting up a GMeet via Calendar vs Classroom is another nightmare!!

19:45:13 From John McArthur to All panelists : We are using Seesaw to help organise and assign learning tasks. It is great for student and teacher response. Here is an example. https://app.seesaw.me/pages/shared_activity?share_token=SdN8EjaoRjeW5SvoB9-Nww&prompt_id=prompt.6828eae1-48c2-40e0-9d6d-98d16ec3dfcc

19:45:13 From Siegelh@charleston.k12.il.us to All panelists : I've also been reviewing how to compose an e-mail. Also that they often don't sign their name or greet you. I can only see their last name and graduation year, so I asked them to sign their first name and in parenthesis include which art class or period they are in.

19:45:36 From Cindy Bicker to All panelists : don't assume they know- very good insight because I assume I k now less tech than them

19:45:37 From Julie Norris : I've been sharing with the kids my vulnerability with learning all about google classroom and zoom and all the other cool stuff out there. And the kids LOVE to help me. If I can't link something or find the white board on zoom they will help me!!!!

19:45:38 From janecristantiello : 430 kits go home tues

19:45:55 From nancy borrelli : what materials did you choose?

19:45:56 From Stacey Crannage to All panelists : Just finished my k-8kits today!

19:45:57 From Jordan DeWilde : PRO Pack about planning instructional videos: <https://theartofeducation.edu/packs/planning-instructional-videos/>

19:45:57 From Megan Dehner : Minimal Materials: <https://theartofeducation.edu/2020/04/10/6-art-activities-that-require-minimal-supplies/>

19:46:06 From Siegelh@charleston.k12.il.us : Whoops didn't post this to everyone: I've also been reviewing how to compose an e-mail. Also that they often don't sign their name or greet you. I can only see their last name and graduation year, so I asked them to sign their first name and in parenthesis include which art class or period they are in.

19:46:11 From Jenifer Farley : Art kits planning around only those materials!

19:46:13 From Julie Norris : @janecristanteillo what did you put in your art kits?

19:46:18 From Maryjo Montgomery : We have to teach LIVE and record for student who missed school.

19:46:38 From lundgrke : Our state is using Canvas. I have a a classroom Weebly and our students have iPads.

19:46:57 From Megan Dehner : More minimal materials: <https://theartofeducation.edu/2020/03/13/27-art-activities-and-lessons-to-try-at-home/>

19:47:00 From Josie Perez : How to the kids do the sheets if they can't print out?

19:47:02 From Colette Hardy : THIS chat so much info! THIS is amazing!! so many amazing ART TEACHERS!!!!

19:47:03 From Deborah Herrand to All panelists : that is awesome

19:47:17 From Veronica Campos-Hallstrom : Creating video and even audio, and flipping develop connections. they can review it anytime as well.

19:47:49 From Pam Roble : Is everyone sending paper home also?

19:47:59 From Jordan DeWilde : Abby's article about using Google Classroom in the art room: <https://theartofeducation.edu/2020/03/26/how-to-use-google-classroom-in-the-art-room/>

19:48:00 From lundgrke : Some students chose to be totally virtual. Teachers who have virtual classes have a class block dedicated to virtual students, as if it is a regular class block.

19:48:03 From Megan Dehner : Abby's Pack on Oil Pastels!<https://theartofeducation.edu/packs/getting-started-with-oil-pastels/>

19:48:22 From Gerry-louise Robinson : Yes - about 10 sulphite sheets as they are multifunctional

19:49:02 From Theresa Strocen-Bates : Our students are being kept in classroom pod groups and I push into their classrooms. A shoebox bin of art supplies were given to each student: markers, colored pencils, oil pastels, #2 pencils, pink pearl eraser, water color palette, a ruler and a sharpie. I'm planning around these supplies.

19:49:07 From Susan Mitrano : Can Abby enlarge her screen share?

19:49:09 From Yvonne Patton to All panelists : Don't know if you've answered this question yet - I had trouble getting on. Our schools are virtual now but shortly will be hybrid. Parents have a choice to keep their children home. So, we have split classes for Art. Half the class comes one week (the other half will be virtual at home) - the second half of the class will come the following week and trade places. But what do you do with the children who stay home when it's their week to be at school physically?

19:49:10 From Stephanie Zoppi : Are we able to view or download this webinar slideshow??

19:49:11 From Pam Roble : That's what I thought....thanks!

19:49:28 From lundgrke : I also send a copy of the weekly remote assignments with links and images home in an email to parents. I have gotten positive responses from parents, especially those who aren't good with technology.

19:49:30 From janecristantiello : Each grade is a little different... watercolors are backordered... just basics er colored paper, pencil, markers.. etc.. district bought all students crayons, pencils colored pencils

19:49:32 From Stacey Crannage : If you want to download a YouTube video...erase "use" from the url and it will take you to a site to download it. It has been a lifesaver since we can't use YouTube at our school.

19:49:38 From Siegelh@charleston.k12.il.us : I made workbooks, put together project paper, and offered to provide supplies, upon request (but provided supply lists ahead of time, too).

19:49:57 From Stacey Crannage : Erase Ube...not use (in regard to my post above!)

- 19:50:18 From Tanya New to All panelists : What can one do when students do not have art materials at home?
- 19:50:30 From Susan Mitrano : Pear Deck does very similar thing. And gives you spreadsheets (excel)
- 19:50:32 From Susan Bowles to All panelists : You can enlarge it. Select the middle bar between Abby and the shared screen and move it to the right or left depending on which side you want larger.
- 19:51:39 From Erin McNicoll to All panelists : Love ed puzzle also to not have the ads or other unintended content
- 19:51:41 From Kim Steele : Yes, how do you hand out supplies to each student when they can't share. I'd love for my students to have oil pastels

- 19:53:15 From jennafreck to All panelists : Amazon?

- 19:54:05 From Dalila Perez : What was the video app that you use?
- 19:54:06 From Amy Meyer to All panelists : That is awesome Lori. I am looking for inexpensive supplies to buy for them.
